Soha-Sharmila starrer Life Goes On to be screened at MFF

Saranya [October 26, 2009, 3:19:43 PM]

The admirers of Soha Ali Khan and Sharmila Tagore are in a real treat. The mother-daughter duo has made their first appearance together on screen for a film called Life Goes On, by debutante director Sangeeta Dutta, which will be screened at the 11th Mumbai Film Festival (MFF).

Life Goes On, which has the shadow of Shakespeare's King Lear, bears on this contemporary and free adaptation. It works functionally as a sub-text in the film as we see Sanjay and Dia within the contours of the mythical Lear and Cordelia.

The film is set in London and revolves around Sanjay (Girish Karnad), his deceased wife (Sharmila Tagore) and three daughters. His shattered life goes through more turmoil when Dia (played by Soha Ali Khan) the youngest daughter, falls in love with a Muslim man.

The 11th Mumbai Film Festival starts from 29th October to 5th November.
